FENCES FOR FARMS.

The Southern Farm Magazine says:—There are a few States in the South that have been wise enough to abolish fences for the farm. North Carolina, Alabama and one or two others have recognized the fact that the agricultural interests are paramount, and should be protected in every possible way. When first proposed the doing away with fences met with much opposition, especially from those who depended upon the highway pasturage for summer grazing, but with experience the system has grown in popularity, and its effects are seen in the better cultivation of the farm and with a degree of prosperity among the farmers that was unknown before.

When one considers that the cost of fences amounts to many hundreds of millions of dollars, and that the fences need constant repair every year, it is amazing that any sensible people should incur such an expense for the benefit of those who have stock running out. If any legislature should dare to impose upon the people a tax equal to that which farmers now pay for fences there would be such a storm of indignation aroused as would sweep from place and power everyone who had an agency in imposing such a tax. Yet we see the representatives of the people meeting in their regular general assemblies, and while pretending to devise measures of relief for taxpayers, they suffer one of the greatest burdens ever imposed upon a people to go on from year to year without taking any steps toward relieving it.

There is no sounder reason for requiring farmers by law to keep their fields enclosed. The object of fences should be reversed, and instead of being built to keep stock out, they should be built to keep stock in. By doing this four-fifths of the annual outlay for fences could be dispensed with and the money applied to the improvement of the soil or erecting the necessary buildings upon the farm. Habit once established is blind. It pursues its path without reason. When the South was first settled the proportion of unimproved land was very small, and highway pasturage was relied upon for grazing all kinds of stock. As the country settled up farms were enlarged. The proportion of woodland decreased and the highway pasturage became less serviceable until in the more thickly settled portions of the country it was abandoned altogether, except by the improvident and shiftless farmers. The reason for enclosure having ceased, the enclosures themselves should be abandoned.

Makes a Clean Sweep.
There's nothing like doing a thing thoroughly. Of all the Sarsaparilla, Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is the best. It sweeps away and cures Burns, Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Boils, Itch, Scalds, Eruptions and Piles. It cures Scurvy and is guaranteed to give satisfaction by A. M. Hughes druggist.

Resolution Of Respect.

The Mutual Protection Society, Louisa Lodge No. 117, Resolutions adopted at its meeting on the 21st day of March, 1904. Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to call from labor to his home beyond, our beloved brother, Mr. Alexander Lackey, to reap his reward for his faithful, true and honest life, therefore, Be it resolved, That this Lodge has lost an honored and efficient member, the bar an eminent lawyer, and the community and the State a noble character. Be it resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family of our beloved brother, our heartfelt sympathy, expressing the deep sorrow we feel in his loss to us as a fraternity, to his family as a loving husband and beloved father, a kind and affectionate brother and friend, and we trust we may all emulate his beautiful life.

Be it further resolved, That his widow and children may always feel that they will always meet with a hearty response to any demands they may make upon this Order, a member of which we cherished him, and that we will seek in every way possible to make their loss of husband and father bear lightly upon them in their bereavement. Be it resolved, That these resolutions be spread at large upon the minutes of this society; a copy be sent to the bereaved family, and a copy to the BIG SANDY NEWS for publication.

A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. F. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pleurisy, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed by A. M. Hughes Druggist. Trial bottles free.

How to Keep Seeds.

The length of time which seeds can be kept and still show a good percentage of germination varies greatly. The seeds of some vegetables, including parsnip and celery, will rarely germinate after they are one year old. Onion seeds are not good after the second year; beans and peas can be kept three to four years; wheat, three to six years; while seeds of cucumbers and melons can be kept seven to ten years.—Country Life.

An Aggravating Cough Cured.

Erie Stone has bought the big Fulton mill and will operate it on Guyan river.

Mr. Wheeler and family have moved back to Cane's creek from Ashland, where they lived two years.

"Where are you going my pretty maid?"
"To the World's Fair at St. Louis, sir," she said.
"Over what line will you travel, my dear?" said he.
"Over the Henderson Route, of course," said she.
"Why over that road do you go?" he said.
"For Free Reclining Chair Cars, sir," she said.
"And where does this Palace of Travel?" he said.
"From Kentucky—through Evansville—to St. Louis," said she.
"You seem to be pleased with that line," he said.
"They are 'Good Service' originators, sir," she said.
"I'm traveling another route 'tis as good," said he.
"You'll have to show me, kind sir," said she.
"All lines look alike to me," he said.
"I can only see one. The Henderson," she said.
"I need me a helpmate, my dear," said he.
"Won't you travel to St. Louis, my wife, with me?"
"I don't need a helpmate you need," said she.
"But the Henderson Route Comfort Line—for me?"
"Then, will you not come my way?" he said.
"No, I'm for the Henderson" any day, she said.
"Is the choice of routes worth more than my love?" said he.
"Not but the Choice of Routes is, dear sir," said she.
"How, then, can I wed you, fair maid?" he said.
"Get the Henderson Route habit first," she said.

MORAL TO MEN.
This lady was undoubtedly accustomed to the best, and would have no other. Therefore—if you would wedded and happy be, "Get the Henderson Route Habit"—'Tis a good habit to acquire.

A disordered stomach may cause one of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless and therefore the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to healthy condition, and for this purpose no better preparation can be used than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by A. M. Hughes.

Black Diamond 109 Feet High.

A monument of coal towering 109 feet above the ground will be erected at St. Louis to advertise to the world one of the natural resources of West Virginia. The black diamond shaft will represent the twenty-two workable veins of coal found in the mountains and each vein will be placed in its relative order. It will be the largest, most unique exhibition of coal ever made. The shaft will be twelve feet square. At night it will be brilliantly illuminated, so that it can be seen for a distance of twelve miles. The shaft, together with the lumber exhibit will cost $90,000. The State appropriated $50,000, the rest is by paid the individuals, mostly coalmen. The entire West Virginia exhibit is nearly ready for erection.

A Cure for Headache.

Any man, woman or child suffering from headache, biliousness or a dull drowsy feeling should take one or two of DeWitt's Little Early Green Pills and morning. These famous little pills are famous because they are a tonic as well as a pill. While they cleanse the system they strengthen and rebuild it by their tonic effect upon the liver and bowels. Sold by Louisa Drug Co.

The Virtues of Piety.

I had a cook who could not read, or even tell the hour by the clock, but she boiled eggs with perfect accuracy. When asked one day "But how do you know when they are ready, 'chuck'?" she answered with a smile which showed all her fine teeth, "Senor, I boil them by the Credo."

She had been taught like other Mexican village girls, to patter off the Apostles' Creed. She did not know quite well what the words meant, but they just did nicely to boil eggs with. She put the eggs in the pot (in the coffee pot with the coffee, but that is a mere detail) and began to say her creed. At "Amen" the eggs were ready.

DO IT TO DAY.

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or cold, or that cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it today—and let that remedy be Dr. Roschke's German Syrup, which has been in use for thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if it has consumed your lungs, even if it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. Use trial bottles, 25c; regular size 75c. At all druggists.

Value of Moral Training.

In bringing up our children, we have learned that in regard to religious matters, the sacred needs to be diluted with the secular. In other words, religious instructions in the abstract is not nearly so efficient in character building as the making a few principles of righteousness a vital part of life. Practice is better than precept, says good food-keeping. My boy quickly learned the Bible's injunctions as to kindness and generosity, but when he gave ten cents of hard earned money to help a poor woman, the act made a greater impression upon his nature than all his Sunday schooling. Most of us parents need to realize that actions speak louder than words—that a good example and right deeds by parents, during the week have more effect upon the child than church going alone.

A Thoughtful Man.

M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind. writes but he is in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of me and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 2c. at A. M. Hughes drug store.

Timely Hints on Giving.

We should not give people things they do not want. We should avoid giving anybody the mumps or the chicken-pox if we can help it. Do not give a friend the cold shoulder without baked beans and hot coffee to go with it. A man should not give a lady a kiss unless he thinks she would enjoy it, except in the case of his wife and his mother-in-law.

Do not give red suspenders to a total stranger; he might prefer those of a pale blue shade instead. Do not present a bucking broncho to a tall, pale man of sedentary habits, as he would not likely live long to enjoy it. When you give a censor oil to a howling infant give it for its intrinsic worth and not merely as an evidence of your regard.—Lippincott's.

Words Of Wisdom.

Habit is the deepest law of human nature.—Chaucer.
Good nature is stronger than tomahawks.—Emerson.
Talebearers are just as bad as talemakers.—Sheridan.
Those who complain most are most complaining.—M. Henry.
Almost always the most intelligent are the most generous.—Stanley.
True gentleness is native feeling heightened and improved by principle.—Blair.
He that thinks he can afford to be negligent, is not far from being poor.—Johnson.
Persistent people begin their success where others' end in failure.—Edward Eggleston.
He who commits injustice is ever made more wretched than he who suffers it.—Pala.
A friend that you have to buy won't be worth what you pay for him no matter what that may be.—G. B. Prentiss.

Here is a farmer's recipe for ridding his premises of rats and mice: If you will sprinkle sulphur on the barn floor and thru your corn as you gather, there will not be a rat or mouse holler in it. I have done this for several years and have never been bothered with rats or mice. I have some old corn in a crib at present, and not a rat or mouse can be found. In stacking hay or oats sprinkle a little on the ground and thru each load, and my word for it, rats or mice can't stay there. A pound of sulphur will be sufficient to preserve a large barn of corn and is good for stock and will not hurt the corn for bread.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the bad spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver on the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in the condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in the condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and this figure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Over of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, inappetite, growing weaker day by day. Then physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and now I am well again. I know they killed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 25c. per bottle, at A. M. Hughes drug store.

GOVERNOR McCORD

Recommends Peruna to All Catarrh Victims.

Hon. M. H. McCord.

Hon. Myron H. McCord, Ex-Governor of New Mexico, in a letter to Dr. Hartman, from Washington, D. C., says: "Dear Sir—At the suggestion of a friend I was advised to use Peruna for catarrh, and after using one bottle I began to feel better in every way. It helped me in many respects. I was troubled with colds, coughs, more throat, etc., but as soon as I had taken your medicine I began to improve and soon got well. I take pleasure in recommending your great remedy to all who are afflicted with catarrh.—M. H. McCord." Thousands of cases of chronic catarrh have been cured by Peruna during the past winter. There are no successful substitutes for this remedy.

Allow no one to convince you to the contrary. Send to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, for a free catarrh book entitled "Winter Catarrh."

Strange Specimen Of Humanity.

Norton was visited last week by a most unfortunate and at the same time a very interesting piece of humanity. He was a man by the name of John Clark, of Huntington, W. Va., who was shipwrecked 24 years ago, losing both eyes both legs all of his fingers. He was unconscious for ten months and totally blind for five years afterwards. The man now appears with two cork legs, one glass eye and goes around by the aid of two crutches. The physicians succeeded in operating on the optic nerve so that the man now sees with one eye, which is glass, and so far as can be discerned is not different from other glass eyes, but the men can see through it. He is about 50 or 60 years of age and is drumming for a medical house. The writer did not see the gentleman, but talked to reliable persons who did see him and will vouch for these statements.—Norton Va. Free Press.

How to Ward Off an Attack of Rheumatism.

"For years, when spring time came on and I went into garden, I was sure to have an attack of rheumatism and every attack was more severe than the preceding one," says Josie McDonald, of Man, Logan county, West Va. "I tried everything with no relief whatever, until I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application gave me ease, and before the first bottle was used I felt like a new person. Now I feel that I am cured, but I always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, and when I feel any symptoms of a return I soon drive it away with one or two applications of this liniment." For sale by A. M. Hughes.

SALT LAKE CITY

A Few Observations of This Unique City and the Mormons.

The recent trial of Reed Smoot, the Mormon member of the United States Senate, in an effort to have him expelled from that body, has attracted much attention to this polygamous sect and to Salt Lake City, the headquarters of mormonism. This is our excuse for writing, at this time, an article about a visit to Salt Lake City.

It was the middle of last July, at noon on a Sunday, when a Union Pacific train landed us in this beautiful city. Almost the entire United States was suffering from extremely hot weather, and although we could see snow on the surrounding mountains, the sun was getting in effective work on everything not protected by shade. But there was a gentle, refreshing breeze; and the unusual sight of a stream of clear water rushing along the paved gutters beside the sidewalks helped greatly toward keeping the stranger cool. This is a rare sight. The citizens proudly call your attention to their "137 miles of brooklined streets." The quantity of water necessary to supply these constantly running streams is enormous. It all comes from the Wasatch mountains, where the supply is furnished in summer by the melting snow. The city has a large reservoir on a mountain in the suburbs fed by a "sluice" leading from the Wasatch range. It is the clearest water we have ever seen in a water-works reservoir. Salt Lake City is built on a site that slopes just enough to furnish natural drainage.

The mountains surrounding the city are as barren as it is possible for the reader to picture. Brigham Young must have been seeking the most desolate place on earth when he decided to locate at that spot. He probably calculated however that seventeen wives could make the place interesting. The land in its natural state appears to be as sterile as that which the farmer said was so poor he "could not raise a disturbance on it." Brigham raised a disturbance that is still growing. Also about 58 children. The city built there is certainly a great monument—but it honors a bad cause. It is modern, clean, active, with broad, asphalt-paved streets, and fine buildings.

The Mormons like to call their city "Zion." Salt Lake City was founded by Brigham Young and followers in 1847. The elevation is 4,260. Population now is 75,000. The streets are 132 feet wide, bordered with shade trees and laid out at right angles. There are many fine business houses and elegant residences. The finest residence belongs to Senator Kenna and cost $350,000. He was once a miner, and developed the famous "Silver King" mine, which is about 25 miles from Salt Lake City.

The Mormon church operates a very large department store known as Zions Cooperative Mercantile Association, which does a business of five millions dollars per year and employs 350 people.

One of the most interesting places to the visitors is of course, Temple Square, a large area of ground surrounded by a high and substantial wall. Within are the main buildings used by the high-priest officers of the Mormon Church. The temple cost $4,000,000. (To be continued.)

OBITUARY.

While leaning on the everlasting arm of our Savior, and standing on his promises, the spirit of Nannie Kibbey took its flight March 31st, and is now resting on the bosom of our Savior and King, where all tears are wiped away. Nannie was a sweet girl of only a few summers and was loved by all. She united with the Sandhill Christian Church six years ago and has lived a devoted Christian and will be greatly missed.

She leaves four brothers and one sister. Upon these the loss falls as heavily as only those can know who have suffered the final separation from a kind and loving sister. Weep not, dear friends, for the loss of one who has lived a life of purity, who trusted in God in all troubles, and went to him in time of bereavement and found peace in all of her trials.

Servant of God, well done. Rest from thy loved employ; The battle fought, the victory won, Enter thy Master's joy.

A Friend.

TWO MEN KILLED

Fatal Encounter Near Cornutt Station Saturday.

Jasper Campbell and Lawrence Foreman were killed near Cornutt Station last Saturday afternoon during a fight between Campbell and James Morrison on one side and Lawrence and Arthur Foreman on the other.
All were employed on the N. & W. railway extension just across the river. Mary Poole, a 14-year-old girl living at Arthur Foreman's took dinner to the Foreman brothers. In passing Campbell and Morrison they made improper remarks to the girl. She told Mrs. Foreman about it and the latter sent a note to her husband, telling what had occurred. The Foreman went after the two men, who had by this time crossed the river, intending to leave on the train. A fight started immediately, the men at first using only their fists. Pistols were soon brought into play. Besides the two fatalities, Arthur was shot in the arm and Morrison was badly beaten.
The men were not natives. The Foreman are sons of Emory W. Foreman, of Kansas, who worked on the dam at this place several years ago. Lawrence married a Miss Skeens, who with two children survives him. Campbell and Morrison were laborers, working for Contractor Stern.
The funeral of Alexander Lackey took place from the residence last Saturday at 11 o'clock. Rev. Dr. J. M. Boland, pastor of the M. E. Church South, eulogized the deceased in a most fitting manner. The attendance was unusually large. Friends were present from all parts of the county and many from other counties. The number of Masons participating is said to have been the largest ever seen here. Five neighboring lodges being represented. The floral tributes were very handsome. A fine masonic cross design sent by the Mayfield Commandery, Knights Templar, and the offerings of the local bar, the county and city officials and the teachers of Louisa, were among the most elaborate. The design given by the bar was a pillow of calla lilies, violets and white roses.
Among those present from distant places were:
Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Brown, Misses Quinn and Florence Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Gies Hampton, Mrs. Jas. Patton, Mrs. J. C. Hopkins, J. H. McConnell, Mrs. D. H. Carpenter, G. F. Gallup and Little son, Mr. Williams, L. T. Everett, John Price, John Mason, Geo. Martin, Mr. Mitchell, of Catlettsburg; Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Houston, Mrs. Thomas, Hensell, Al Savage and J. W. Woods, of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Lucy Lockwood and Miss Lula Vanhorn, of Lockwood. F. R. Moore, of Webbville; Mrs. J. F. Hatten, Miss Cyrus and Dr. Bandfield, of Buchanan; J. F. Ittelf, Huntington; J. M. Purns and H. C. Harte, Linton, O. In addition to these were the immediate relatives mentioned in our last issue as being here during the last days of his illness.
The Lawrence Fiscal Court met last Tuesday in regular session, Judge Vinson presiding and the following magistrates present: Compton, Hites, Diamond, Perry, Horry, Swann, Sparks and Hughes. The allowance of claims and the consideration of a delinquent list is the business before the body. Court was not in session Wednesday because of the funeral of Judge Vinson's brother.

The Passing of Alexander Lackey.

The time intervening between the death of Mr. Lackey and the hour at which the News went to press was so short that only a very brief notice of the dead citizen could be prepared. And even now, with ample time, it is difficult to write of him in terms and manner commensurate with the civic and moral worth of the man. Fortunately for Louisa we are not frequently called upon to chronicle the demise of so worthy a citizen, for the city and the community can not often spare such as he. Born in Louisa, educated in her schools, and becoming part and parcel as it were of her best and most vital interests, Alexander Lackey lived to the meridian of life, honored and useful to his fellow man, and died loved and regretted by all who knew the able lawyer, the public-spirited citizen, the honest upright man.
It is putting it strongly, but truthfully, to say that as a lawyer Mr. Lackey had but few superiors in Kentucky. He was not a brilliant man, far less a showy one. His pleadings at the bar were not adorned with bouquets of rhetoric, but they were ripe with logic, sound in the very principles of the law and strong in persuasive and convincing argument. He mentally decried the decisions of the Courts of Last Resort, and none remembered them so well as he. Always a student he burned the midnight oil in his pursuit of legal lore, and this his mind became a rich storehouse from which he could draw an endless supply. He had an enviable reputation as a first class lawyer, and this brought him a varied and lucrative practice. A knowledge of Mr. Lackey's worth and ability made him much sought for by those who would like to see him occupy some high official station. But he over had any ambition along this line few, if any, ever knew it. He had been repeatedly solicited to accept nominations but he invariably declined. It is probable that if he had lived to ripe years the Circuit or Appellate Court might have successfully tempted him, and he would have graced with honor and credit either of those exalted places. He was for years an active and useful member of the School Board, and as a distinct favor to his native city he was the custodian of its funds, but beyond these he would hold no office. But while Mr. Lackey refused to accept many honorable and responsible positions he was never a public-spirited citizen. All plans and undertakings having for their end the improvement of Louisa and her people had his championship and support. None appreciated better than he the power for good exerted by schools and churches, and to their establishment and support he was a liberal contributor.
While Alex. Lackey was a pillar of strength in the law and a potent factor in the municipality it was in his home life among those who loved him best—surrounded by those who loved him best, that he showed those traits of character that endeared him to wife, children and kindred. To her whose home and heart are now desolate he was ever kind, loyal and tender. His wife's happiness and comfort were to Alexander Lackey prime considerations, and with his thoughtful care regarding their mother were mingled the most affectionate concern for the welfare of the dear little girls so early bereft of a devoted father. Singularly modest and unassuming, almost of a retiring disposition among men and strangers, Mr. Lackey found in the society of a cultured wife and bright children all the elements of happiness and content.
The passing of such a man, then, was a distinct loss to this community. The intense solicitude manifested during his long illness; the deep regret expressed when it was learned that he must die; the grief manifested when the tired little closed in death, and the great throng of people from all the ranks of life which gathered to pay a last tribute of respect, testified to the esteem in which our friend was held. No scar or stain mars the beauty of an upright life. In the completeness of an honorable career death called him; and he met the summons bravely and calmly. Peace to his ashes, honor to his memory and rest to his soul!

New Buildings for Louisa.

Several contractors have been to Louisa within the past few days making figures on some new buildings that are to be erected here this season. Prominent among these buildings are the residence of Col. Jay H. Northrup, a passenger depot for the C. & O. railroad, and the new city hall and "lock-up."
Col. Northrup's residence is to contain more than a dozen rooms, all of liberal dimensions. The plans were brought up from Catlettsburg this week by James Kilgore. The residence will be located in upper Louisa, on the river front, and just below the mouth of the Jones Branch. Plans for a passenger depot for Louisa are now open to inspection at Ashland. Bids will be received on both brick and frame structures and the decision as to which will be built will be reached after the bids are all in. We hope the brick will receive the decision. The city hall plans have been adopted and contracts will be let at once. The new building will have the court and jury rooms, the lock-up and the vault on the first floor. The second floor may be used by lodges or for public meetings.
LATER.—The plans for the Louisa passenger depot have been sent here. It is said that a frame building has been decided upon. The plans are very similar to those of the Catlettsburg station. The City Council has decided to rebuild on very much the same plan as before, with the addition of a fire proof vault and concrete floor. This will keep the cost of rebuilding down to about or quite the amount received from insurance.
Death of Samuel R. Vinson.
The illness of Sam. Vinson which was noted in a recent number of the News terminated fatally last Monday. He had been sick some time with "thin consumption," a disease peculiar to workers in potteries. He died at the residence of Lon Skeens, a brother of County Clerk Ad Skeens. Mrs. Skeens and Rev. Mr. Faust, of East Liverpool, accompanied Mr. Vinson's body to Louisa where funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Mr. Faust and Rev. H. H. Hulet at the residence of his brother K. F. Vinson. Interment occurred the same afternoon at the Vinson burial ground near the old home of the late Col. William Vinson. Deceased was a brother of Judge R. F. Vinson and was a very popular man. He leaves a widow to mourn his loss. Sam had been at East Liverpool about two years, where he had a lucrative position with a large pottery. His death comes very unexpectedly. The last time he was at Louisa he was the picture of health, and did not look as though he would ever have consumption. He was a genial, generous man, and was liked by everybody.
Fire On Lock Avenue.
The cry of "fire" aroused the residents of Lock Avenue about four o'clock Wednesday morning. It was found that the furniture in Snyder Bros. house, recently occupied by A. S. Weller, was burning. The house was densely filled with smoke. The timely application of a few buckets of water quenched the flames. Dr. Weller occupied the house that night, but his family had been at the hotel since Saturday. It being their intention to move very soon to Jackson, Ohio. The furniture was very heavily insured, and is the property of Dr. Weller. The policy was canceled by the company on Wednesday afternoon. The amount of the policy was $700.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Major J. S. W. Mullen, of Catlettsburg, died last Friday after a brief illness of pneumonia.

A cyclone cut a narrow path through Hyden, Ky., demolishing the Southern Methodist church, unroofing mercantile houses and then passing up the middle fork of Kentu river, making a scene a sweep of forest trees on its route.

Mrs. J. M. Woodward, of Knoxville, Tenn., was brought here to night in care of Dr. Andrews from Morehead, Ky., suffering from tuberculosis. Mrs. Woodward has been on a visit to the latter place and was taken ill several days ago.

Dr. E. D. Frank and Ray Saulsberry, were acquitted Tuesday, of the charge of incendiarism in the burning of a barn and dwelling for Capt. Bent and setting the Adena Springs hotel on fire. Cal Phillips was charged with being an accomplice evaded the officers.

A year or two ago the little son of C. E. Ferguson, of Paris, while at Sunday-school at the Methodist Church of that city, fell into a cistern in the basement and was drowned. His father brought suit against the church for $20,000 damages and a jury has just decided in favor of the church.

As the steamer Doctor York was coming down the Sandy river her tiller ropes broke and she collided with the Sea Gull, at Buffalo shoals, near Paintsville. A hole ten feet long was knocked in the Doctor's hull, but above the water line. A large hatch was being towed by the Sea Gull was sunk.

Joe Burton, of Silson, who lost his mind from effects of legrippe about a month ago hit his wife with a wagon spoke Tuesday knocking her teeth out and breaking her jaw bone, leaving her in a critical condition. He then went and drowned himself. Mr. Burton was a good honest man, and liked by all who knew him.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption, to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

soon at Kenova, upon a large scale. Mr. Ritter has already opened negotiations for the right for the plant, which will cost something like $25,000,000 feet annually.

This operation will not interfere with the up-country mills both of which will continue as at present. The clear box lumber business, however, will be gradually turned over to the new plant, which will be so placed as to have a great advantage in shipping facilities.

Morehead, Ky.—The people of this community are greatly excited over the finding of an eight-foot vein of coal near Hilda, on Brushy Fork, five miles north of this place. The coal is the very best grade of canal coal, burns very free and was found on the vein of John K. Johnson. The vein has been traced a distance of three miles along the side of the ridge and is the first coal ever found in Itowan county.

This new field is on the direct route of the Cincinnati, Flemingsburg and Ashland railroad, surveyed through to a connection with the C. and O. railroad.

We are in receipt of a communication from Charles E. Heron, a former Grayson boy, who now has his headquarters at the Everett House, New York City. He has recently returned from a trip around the world which took in Japan, India, Australia, South Africa and Europe. At Kimberly, So. Africa he visited his brother George, who was a small boy when he left Grayson. His other brother, Lincoln, is private secretary to Gov. Spark, of Nevada. His father, George W. Heron, a former hotel proprietor of Grayson and ex-representative of Carter and Elliott counties, resides a Seattle, Wash. He was recently granted pension of $50 per month by special act of Congress. This family has a disposition to travel and all of them have seen the biggest part of the world. The boys who grew up in this quiet village, have made first class business men in every particular.

Sergent, Ky., March 30.—Fred J. Andrews, of Condorport, Penn., representing a wealthy Pennsylvania syndicate, had just closed a deal on 40,000 acres of fine coal and timber lands in Letcher, Knott and Perry counties, making the largest deal of the kind consummated here in years. The price paid was $15 per acre. This deal will mean much for the development of the Eastern Kentucky coal fields, and within the next few years great developments will take place. Mr. Andrews said today that at least two distinct lines of railroads would be built to develop their property within the next two years. "One of them," said he, "is the extension of the Lexington and Eastern from Jackson." In all probability the other extension will be the Cumberland valley branch of the Louisville and Nashville from Harlan Courthouse. There is greater activity in Kentucky coal land than was ever evidenced before. In many localities coal lands are selling for $30 and even $40 per acre.

Good for Children.—The pleasant-tasting and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediate into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, kills germs and cures. It is permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissues. One Minute Cough Cure is pleasant to take and it is good alike for young and old. Sold by Louisville Drug Co.

What Microbes Are.—Since Pasteur demonstrated the fact that many human diseases are due to minute living things which grow and multiply in our bodies there has been a tendency to call all microscopic organisms, whether harmful or not, "germs" or "microbes" or "bacteria" indiscriminately. This confusion may be cleared by the statement that protozoa are the lowest known forms of animals and that bacteria are the lowest known forms of plants while "germs" and "microbes" may apply to the disease-causing forms in group.—[April Century.]

BACKBONE.—Fencing at Backhonn Saturday and Sunday by Rev. A. M. Pennington. Amanda and Ella Wheeler were shopping at Wehville Thursday. J. F.
